CONCLAVE 2002 "Strengthening The Ties Of Brotherhood"

A total of seven adults and five youth attended the Conclave at Quivera Scout Ranch. The event was informative as well as interesting. Many options were available to the participants for fun in the afternoon, including history, story telling, and dancing by the Lenni Lenape Indians. Joining them were several other tribes in their regalia of their tribe. Several from our group decided to take a water tour of the lake.

The evening was exciting with elections of the section C-6B officers. Zac Bailey became Section C-6B Vice Chief. We are all proud of his commitment and desire to run for office. It is a challenging job that we know he will do well.

Information was leaked to us that we might be the 2004 site for Section Conclave. After consultation with the Council Executive, it is official that we have been given the ok for planning to start. A commitment of all in the Lodge will be needed, especially since we are the smallest Lodge in the section.

RENDEZVOUS—02

Neither rain, sleet, snow, wind or the cold of October can keep a good Order of the Arrow function down. It was so cold and wet that Saturday, but Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts came to watch Mountain Men, bucking' barrel, monkey bridges, Indian Regalia, history of Scout Tents, etc.

Many tried their hands at beading as the young scout below works on a project.

Doesn't the Cimarron River know that scouts should not gamble?

Below: a picture of the Indian version of cards being taught to all scouts and Explorer post members.

Plans for an even bigger and better Rendezvous are being made. Clear your calendar to cheerfully help in the service to our council at Rendezvous—03.

CHAPTER NEWS

BUFFALO RANGE:

The Buffalo Range chapter was in charge of the high adventure for the Rendezvous. We made a monkey bridge and helped all the scouts to cross over it. They thought that it was a success because after the rotations were over people still came. Although it took a lot of time to build, it was worth it.

Buffalo Range
Chapter Secretary

CIMARRON RIVER:

The Cimarron River Chapter at the OA Rendezvous was in charge of the Indian Affair site. We had an archery range, an Indian game, and the rabbit hunting game set up. The Cimarron River is also working on planning a camping trip in the near future.

Clay Billings
Cimarron River Chapter Vice-Chief

HIGH PLAINS:

The High Plains had model campsite for the Rendezvous. Several tents from different eras were displayed. There were a few boys who needed their totin' chip, so the OA helped them to receive it. Jeremy Webb High Plains Chapter Chief
